Internship Opportunity

Koinonia Jerusalem is seeking graduates who are specialized in translation or related fields to participate in an internship with on-the-job training through the Koinonia Program.

Contract period: Paid internship (Part-time) for six months

Internship Fields:

Mainly Translation from English to Arabic

Christian advocacy

lobbying and journalism

About the Koinonia Project

“Koinonia” primarily means “fellowship, sharing in common, communion.” There are several biblical interpretations of the meaning of Koinonia which leads to the same definition of “sharing in common, being devoted to one another, believers devoting themselves to the apostles' teachings, coming together in love, faith, and encouragement, being in agreement with one another, honouring one another, living in harmony with one another, accepting one another, being kind and compassionate to one another, encouraging one another toward love and good deeds, and working towards strengthening one another towards a common goal.” Koinonia’s mission is to help:

- Strengthen the presence of the local Christian community and the Church as an entity by building a new Christian generation that has a sense of belonging to the Holy Land based on the Christian faith.
- Provide educational and career guidance to help youth make informed decisions for themselves and their communities as they pursue higher education.
- Build capacity among youth and parents to foster young and committed leadership.
- Invest in and develop the ability of youth to connect their education, career, economic choices, awareness, advocacy and lifestyle toward a better future in the Holy Land.

Purpose & Objectives

The internship program’s purpose is to allow Christian graduates in Jerusalem to do specialized on-the-job training to gain useful knowledge and to be part of the new generation that works towards strengthening the Christian presence in the city of Jerusalem.

Interested applicants should submit their biography or CV to koinoniajerusalem@gmail.com no later than September 5, 2023.
